

Jonathan Hasson

Barrister (Call Date: 2013)

Family

Jonathan maintains a busy Court practice across the spectrum of family law matters. He is regularly instructed on Children Act matters from initial advice through to contested final hearings and will always give sensible advice throughout. He also undertakes care work on behalf of all parties including parents and children and undertaking regular instruction from Local Authorities in the region including on an urgent basis.

Jonathan has a growing practice in matrimonial finance matters, both attending hearings at all stages and assisting with advice at crucial stages in the proceedings. His always practical advice and willingness to commit to lengthy negotiations means that he has an excellent record of achieving favourable settlements on behalf of clients.

Civil

Jonathan has substantial experience across a broad range of civil matters. He regularly accepts instructions in fast track and small claims trials, disposal hearings, interim applications and possession matters, and represents individuals, companies and public bodies. He is frequently instructed to advise at the early stages of proceedings, or to draft pleadings and other critical documents, and is always able to accommodate such instructions in a time-sensitive manner where necessary.
